 Modulus of Rupture (MOR)	Min 35N/mm ²
 Abrasive Resistance (PEI) for glazed porcelain tiles Resistance to deep abrasion for unglazed tiles (Volume removed)	Dependent on product type Max 175mm ³
 Frost Resistance	Required (where frost exist)
 Resistance to acids and alkalis (except hydrofluoric acids and its compound) Resistance to household chemicals and swimming pool water cleansers (except to cleansing agents containing hydrofluoric acids and its compound)	Min Class B Min Class B
 Stain Resistance - Glazed Tiles Polished / Unglazed Tiles	Min Class 3 Not Required
 Slip Resistance	Indicated in the catalogue

* A minimum of 95% of the tiles be free from visible defects that would impair the appearance of a major area of tiles.

 Semi polished / polished porcelain tiles are more susceptible to staining because dirt gets trapped in the opened surface pores. For this reason, particular care must be taken when using a contrasting grout colour or when selecting a light patterned tile. Sealants or other pre-surface treatments can prevent this problem as long as routine re-application of the protective treatment is maintained.
